

ECOTUMN 2025

Global Change Ecology : from micro-organisms to ecosystems

A scientific autumn school to understand impacts of global changes on biodiversity

Grenoble Alps & Savoie Mont Blanc University campuses, 20-24 Octobre 2025

Embark on a scientific journey with ECOTUMN, a self-organized research school for PhD students. We will explore the consequences of global changes at different scales, our tools and new methods to study them and their impact on species conservation.

The program features lectures by experts from France and Europe in fields as diverse as population genetics, functional ecology, metabolomics or parasitology.
